Results of the examination:

The questioned writings on specimens Q94 and Q96 were determined to have been prepared by the author of the questioned writings on specimens Q31, Q44, and Q50.

Because of characteristics in the questioned writings on specimens Q94 and Q96 that could not be explained on the basis of the available known handwriting of G. GORDON LIDDY, LIDDY could not be definitely established as the author of the writings on specimens Q94 and Q96.

The questioned writings on specimen Q95 were determined to have been prepared by the writer of specimens Q36, Q43, and Q7A. Characteristics further indicate that this same individual was responsible for the preparation of the writings on specimens Q19, Q20, Q21, Q22, and Q90.

Although comparisons of the known and questioned writings would not permit definite conclusions being reached, characteristics indicate that the Warren signature on specimen Q95 may have been prepared by EVERETTE HOWARD HUNT, whose known writings consist of specimens Kc14, K17, K18, and Kc21.

Specimens Q94, Q95, and Q96 are returned herewith.
Photographs have been retained.

The following is in response to the Acting Director's inquiries concerning various information set forth in the attached Bolz to Mr. Bates memorandum 9/12/72.

(1) The Acting Director inquired as to when we determined that Dwayne Andreas was the source of the funds used by Dahlberg to purchase a $25,000 cashier's check which was subsequently cashed by subject Bernard L. Barker.

COMMENT: We first learned of this information from the Jack Anderson column of 8/25/72, which reported that Dahlberg had given a signed statement to the Dade County State's Attorney's office identifying Andreas as the source of these funds. The fact that Dahlberg had given such a statement so identifying Andreas as the source of these funds was confirmed in contact with the State's Attorney's office on 8/25/72. Andreas confirmed he was the source of these funds during interview with our Minneapolis office on 9/7/72. It is noted that in signed statement furnished our Minneapolis office by Dahlberg on 7/7/72, he stated this check represented cash contributions he had obtained while wintering in Boca Raton, Florida. Dahlberg in testimony before the grand jury on 8/30/72,

(2) The Acting Director inquired as to when and how we determined that Robert H. Allen, President, Gulf Resources and Chemical Company, Houston, Texas, and Co-chairman of the Texas Committee to Reelect the President, was the source of funds used by Manuel Ogarrio to purchase the four Mexican bank drafts totaling $89,000 which subject Bernard L. Barker subsequently cashed.

COMMENT: Allen on 7/27/72, refused to discuss this matter with our Houston office, stating that Maurice Stans knew

Memorandum to Mr. Bates

full particulars as to this matter

(3) The Acting Director inquired as to when did we first get at Bernard L. Barker's bank account, noting that the Dade County State's Attorney had subpoenaed these records on 7/7/72.

COMMENT: We first located Bernard L. Barker's bank account at the Republic National Bank, where he cashed Dahlberg's $25,000 cashier's check and four Mexican bank drafts totaling $89,000, on 6/20/72.

(4) The Acting Director inquired as to when we interviewed Kenneth Dahlberg and Maurice Stans.

COMMENT: As previously indicated herein we interviewed Dahlberg on 7/7/72, at which time he furnished a signed statement. It is noted, however, that prior to this time we attempted to contact Dahlberg initially on 6/22/72, at Minneapolis, at which time he avoided us and departed Minneapolis for Buffalo to attend a wedding, via Washington, D. C. We located him in Buffalo on 6/24/72, at which time he refused to be interviewed until after consulting with his attorney, and stated he would contact our Minneapolis office on 6/26/72. On 6/26/72, our Minneapolis office contacted Dahlberg and he stated he had been instructed by his attorney, whom he refused to identify, not to consent to an interview. On 7/6/72, Dahlberg contacted our Minneapolis office and consented to the interview and on 7/7/72, furnished a signed statement.

Maurice Stans was interviewed twice on 7/14/72, and again on 7/28/72, and in these interviews stated he could furnish no information as to how Bernard L. Barker came to be in possession of Dahlberg's $25,000 cashier's check and four Mexican bank drafts. He also declined to identify the contributor of these funds.

(5) The Acting Director inquired as to whether we are certain that the only information State's Attorney Richard Gerstein possesses concerning this matter is that set forth in the attached memorandum.

Memorandum to Mr. Bates
Re: JAMES WALTER McCORD, JR.; ET AL.

COMMENT: Miami office has advised that based on its contacts with Gerstein and his Chief Investigator Martin Dardis, as well as comments made by Gerstein in the newspapers, the only information he has concerning this case was derived from bank records and toll records of the subjects who reside in Florida. In addition, as indicated in the attached memorandum, Gerstein also has the information furnished by Dahlberg as to the source of the funds he used to purchase a $25,000 cashier's check; a signed statement from Stans regarding Dahlberg's furnishing him this check; and information obtained from Miami photographer as to his development of photographs of correspondence of the Democratic National Committee.

(6) The Acting Director has inquired as to the reason why we do not initiate investigation into allegations of violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act which became effective 4/7/72, unless specifically requested by the Department.

COMMENT: Pursuant to the Act, any person who believes a violation may have occurred may file a complaint with the Supervisory Officer (Clerk of the House of Representatives for Congressional Campaigns; Secretary of the Senate for Senatorial Campaigns; Comptroller General for Presidential and Vice Presidential Campaigns). The Supervisory Officer, after conducting investigation and determining possible violation exists, then refers the matter to the Attorney General for civil or criminal action. Accordingly, Bureau then conducts investigation only at request of the Department.

In the event information concerning such a violation were furnished directly to the FBI, we would furnish it to the Department with advice we were conducting no investigation in the absence of a specific request for such from the Department. It is noted information developed during the Watergate investigation concerning Dahlberg's $25,000 cashier's check and the four Mexican bank drafts was fully set out in our investigative reports, copies of which were furnished the Criminal Division. Our investigation in connection with these checks was not aimed at developing a possible violation of the Federal Election Campaign Act, but rather to determine their possible connection with the financing of the Watergate operation.

ACTION: For information.

through July 5, 1972, which will require analysis and interviews with persons contacted.

(6) Additional bank accounts have been located for Hunt requiring issuance of a subpoena to effect a review and analysis thereof.

It is expected that additional leads will be requested by AUSA Silbert as a result of his detailed review of Federal grand jury testimony, his preparation of indictments and further appearance of witnesses before the Federal grand jury.

It is not feasible at this time in view of the foregoing to give a reasonable projection as to when this investigation may be completed.

OBSERVATIONS AS TO ANY LIMITATIONS ON INVESTIGATION

It is the unanimous view of Assistant Director Bates, his Number 1 man Richard J. Gallagher, Section Chief Charles Bolz and Supervisors Charles A. Nuzum and John J. Clynick, as well as SAC Kunkel of the Washington Field Office that there were absolutely no limitations placed on the FBI's investigation of captioned matter. It was understood by all personnel involved in this investigation that it was to be a most thorough and exhaustive investigation with all leads receiving top priority and sufficient personnel assigned to assure prompt handling of all investigation.

Our investigation throughout has been aimed at developing violations of the Interception of Communications and Conspiracy Statutes. Investigation was directed toward identifying each participant in the bugging, including identification of those who may have recruited the subjects, financed the operation, or participated in any fashion.

In this connection we were particularly interested in funds that may have been used to finance the Watergate incident. Our investigation in this regard was directed primarily at:

(1) Determining full particulars as to a $25,000 cashier's check made out by Kenneth Dahlberg and subsequently cashed by subject Bernard L. Barker. It has been determined that this $25,000 was a personal contribution to the Committee to Reelect the President by Dwayne Andreas, a prominent businessman in Minneapolis and close associate of Senator Hubert Humphrey.

(2) Determining the source of $89,000 in Mexican bank drafts payable to Manuel Ogarrio which were cashed by subject Bernard L. Barker. It has been determined that Robert H. Allen, President, Gulf Resources and Chemical Corporation, Houston, Texas, and Co-chairman of the Texas Committee to Reelect the President, was the source of funds utilized by Ogarrio to purchase the foregoing Mexican bank drafts. According to Allen, these represented personal funds, and were not corporate funds, which he desired to contribute anonymously to the Committee to Reelect the President.

② When & how did we determine this?

(3) Determining the source and amount of funds utilized to finance George Gordon Liddy's alleged intelligence activities on behalf of the Committee to Reelect the President.

(4) Determining the source of funds used to finance Donald H. Segretti's activities in harassing Democratic candidates. Investigation disclosed that Segretti was a close personal associate of Everette Howard Hunt, a principal subject in this matter and it was desired to know the extent of Segretti's activities on behalf of Hunt, particularly as they may relate to his possible involvement in captioned matter.

Full particulars as to all of the foregoing were presented to the Federal grand jury.

Extensive press reports following the General Accounting Office (GAO) investigation of reports submitted by the Committee to Reelect the President under the Federal Disclosure Act which became effective April 7, 1972, indicate GAO believes a number of possible violations of that Act have been committed. The press reported that GAO was furnishing details of its investigation to the Department of Justice for consideration as to action required. To date we have received no requests from the Department to conduct investigation of matters reported by GAO relative to the improper reporting by the Committee to Reelect the President of the collection and disbursement of political contributions in accordance with the new Federal Disclosure Act. It is to be noted that Election Laws violations, such as would be involved in the foregoing, are investigated only at the specific request of the Department.

CONTACTS WITH DADE COUNTY STATES ATTORNEY RICHARD GERSTEIN

Gerstein has been contacted during the course of this investigation on two occasions. On July 7, 1972, after information was received from the Comptroller of the Republic National Bank where Barker maintains his account, that the Dade County State's Attorney had subpoenaed bank records concerning Barker, SA Robert L. Wilson, Miami, inquired of Gerstein as to the purpose of the subpoena. Gerstein advised his office had received vague allegations of a conspiracy in Dade County and stated his office was looking into the matter.

Gerstein was again contacted on August 25, 1972, by SA William P. Kelly, Miami, after Jack Anderson's column appeared in the "Washington Post" concerning an interview by Gerstein's office of Kenneth Dahlberg. At that time Gerstein confirmed that his Chief Investigator, Martin Dardis, obtained a sworn statement on August 23, 1972, from Dahlberg and he had also taken a statement from Maurice Stans on August 24, 1972. Gerstein advised as to the contents of these statements but declined under Florida law to furnish a copy of the statements taken. It is noted Gerstein's information concerning this case is fragmentary and is limited to information obtained from Barker's bank account and toll calls of Miami subjects, plus information he obtained from a Miami photographer as to his development of photographs of correspondence of the Democratic National Committee.

ASAC Fox, on instructions of SAC Whitaker, who is presently attending a conference in Washington, D. C., interviewed SAs Wilson and Kelly September 11, 1972, to determine if in their contacts with Gerstein they had furnished him any information. Both Agents deny that they had furnished Gerstein any information concerning the Bureau's investigation of this case. All Miami Agents have been alerted to be most circumspect in future dealings with Gerstein.

Special Agent John E. Kelly, Jr., Special Investigative Division, while conversing with Chief Postal Inspector William Cotter, a personal acquaintance, on September 15, 1972, was advised by Cotter that he had received two telephone calls September 15, 1972, from an individual identifying herself as Martha Hamilton, a reporter for the "Washington Post."

Cotter related Hamilton inquired as to whether he was acquainted with James McCord and if he ever gave a talk to a police instruction class taught by McCord at Montgomery Junior College, Rockville, Maryland, for which he was paid.

In addition, Hamilton asked Cotter if he assisted McCord in attaining his job with the Committee to Reelect the President and whether Cotter knew if McCord engaged in "bugging" while a CIA employee.

Cotter stated he advised Hamilton as follows: that he had given a talk to McCord's class at Montgomery Junior College but had received no remuneration; that he had not assisted McCord in obtaining his job on the Committee to Reelect the President and didn't know he had this position until he read it in the newspaper. He suggested to Hamilton that she contact the CIA to determine what McCord's duties were with that agency.

Cotter noted that he knew McCord when he was employed at CIA and that McCord's duties with that agency related to [REDACTED]

Watergate Figure Taught Course on Security

By Martha M. Hamilton

Washington Post Staff Writer

James W. McCord Jr., indicted Friday by a federal grand jury on eight counts relating to an apparent bugging attempt on Democratic National headquarters at the Watergate, spent 1971 teaching college students how to make buildings secure from intruders.

For two semesters, the former high-ranking CIA security official introduced students to law enforcement and criminal justice and "industrial and retail security" at Montgomery College in Rockville.

At least one student was excited enough to agree to join McCord, 53, in a late May attempt to plant eavesdropping equipment in McGovern headquarters, then on Capitol Hill, according to a source close to the Watergate investigation. But the student failed to show.

The industrial and retail security course was a seminar, featuring guest speakers from government and industry, including former CIA officials, with McCord as moderator.

One session featured a lecture on bugging by a student who was also a professional security man. It was illustrated with slides and a handful of bugs, another student remembered.

Among other things, the course focused on "residential and multistory security" — how to protect buildings like the Watergate, according to a topic outline.

McCord didn't talk politics but came across as conservative nonetheless, a student said. "I got the impression he was a strict conservative. I don't think I ever saw him wear a colored shirt," said the student, who also said McCord seemed extremely competent in the security field.

"I was surprised that the gear he was supposed to have been picked up with was obsolete," he said. "I had the idea he could have gotten the most modern equipment."

McCord hinted at friends in high places but didn't name them, the same student said.

Ernest Evans, chief investigator for the Senate Select Committee on Small Business; Wilfred J. Garvin, assistant administrator for the Small Business Administration, now on leave on fellowship to Brookings Institute and William J. Cotter, assistant postmaster general for security, lectured the class in spring and fall of 1971.

A senior special agent in charge of training for the U.S. Bureau of Customs, someone from the Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, and James Rose, assistant administrator for crime insurance in the Department of Housing and Urban Development, also spoke.

Lt. Gen. Benjamin Davis, assistant secretary of Transportation, was listed as a scheduled speaker last fall but didn't talk.

Most of those contacted who lectured McCord's classes said they speak to other student groups, training sessions or classes and were not going out of their way for McCord. None received a fee for his efforts, according to their own accounts.

Evans, a Democrat who helped put together the Senate committee's report on "The Impact of Crime on Small Business," said he didn't know McCord before the former FBI and CIA agent got in touch with him about the course.

"It blew my mind when I found out he was involved in the Watergate business," Evans said. McCord was "a fantastically nice guy" who was trying to give his students a modern attitude about crime prevention, he said.

Cotter, who spoke to McCord's students once about mail and postal security, said he knew McCord when they both worked for the CIA. McCord worked in the CIA's security division for 19 years. The second time he was invited to speak to the class, Cotter turned the honor over to a subordinate, he said. "Frankly, the group didn't stimulate me," he said.

The notes of a student who took the course and review questions passed out by McCord suggest a dry, factual, statistical approach to the clandestine business. What were the total costs of crime cited by one recent news journal article? one review question asks. "What special sales and profit problem does the sole proprietor-retailer in a ghetto area face from crime losses?" another asks.

McCord, who had degrees from the University of Texas and George Washington University (not Baylor, as earlier accounts have said) seemed committed to academic interests, according to George P. Morse, who also spoke to the course.

Morse, former director of protection and safety for the National Institutes of Health, who knew McCord only slightly from when he worked for the CIA, said he found it out of character for McCord to be involved in either the security consulting business or the Watergate affair.

McCord ran a security consulting business, McCord Associates, Inc., in Rockville, and coordinated security efforts for the Nixon re-election campaign before his arrest in June.

Summary

Attached is summary of current developments concerning burglary of Democratic National Headquarters.

(1) Seven subjects this case appeared U. S. District Court, 9/19/72, before Chief Judge John J. Sirica and entered not guilty pleas to indictment of 9/15/72. Subjects continued on bond; stipulations set forth.

(2) Judge Sirica assigned case to himself. He filed order with Clerk of Court giving defendants 15 days from 9/19/72, to file motions; Government has 10 days thereafter to file answers. All motions and answers must be filed no later than 25 days from 9/19/72.

(3) No trial date set at this time. Judge Sirica pointed out Rule 100 of Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, Paragraph Ten, will apply; these rules deal with discussion of case with members of the press.

(4) State's Attorney Richard Gerstein requested Assistant U.S. Attorney (AUSA) Silbert release copy of Kenneth Dahlberg check. AUSA Silbert presented matter in open court to Judge Sirica who ordered that a copy of check be turned over by FBI to State's Attorney's Office in Miami. Attorney for Barker objected claiming client was "boxed in from the Government and the State of Florida" and insisted Judge Sirica stay his order; Judge Sirica refused.

Dahlberg check will be turned over to FBI Laboratory for photographing in compliance with Judge Sirica's order and thereafter forwarded to Miami to be turned over to Gerstein.

(5) In view of possibility Judge Sirica moving toward speedy trial, extensive review and preparation for trial is now under way in both our Washington Field Office and the U. S. Attorney's Office.

Investigation continuing.

With regard to the additional "bug" found in the Democratic National Headquarters, this is to advise that I was in charge of the men making the security survey of these premises, that I was personally present and assisted in conducting the security survey.

As part of our sweep operation, all telephones present at the time of the security survey were opened and inspected; this specifically includes all of the telephones in the room in which the new bug has been found. I state positively and categorically that this additional device was not present in any of the telephones at the time of the security survey. This device is sufficiently large that its presence is immediately apparent in an opened telephone. I, of course, have no way of knowing at what time subsequent to our survey this device may have been installed, or whether the telephone instrument in which the device was found has been substituted subsequent to the survey.

It is of interest to note that whereas the three previously discovered devices were all alike, the new device is unlike any of the earlier ones. This further tends to support the subsequent installation of the current device.

Attached "Washington Post" news article reports news release by Lawrence O'Brien concerning wiretapping activities at the Democratic Party National Headquarters, which O'Brien states was received from an unimpeachable source (of attorney Edward Bennett Williams). Following is analysis of each of these points and our previous knowledge thereof:

LAWRENCE O'BRIEN

(1) O'Brien alleges his telephone and that of R. Spencer Oliver, Executive Director of the Association of State Democratic Chairmen, were tapped for several weeks.

COMMENTS: Alfred Carlton Baldwin, former FBI Agent who was hired by McCord to monitor transmissions from the Democratic Party National Headquarters from a Howard Johnson Motel room, previously advised us on 7/10/72, that the monitoring he did was of Oliver's telephones and several extensions thereof. Baldwin was not aware of any tap on O'Brien's telephone. However, Washington Field Office has advised that at the time of subjects' arrests they had in their possession a faulty transmitter and they were in close proximity to O'Brien's office when discovered.

(2) Logs of conversations monitored were kept and transcribed in memorandum form at the Howard Johnson Motel station.

COMMENTS: This is in accordance with information furnished us by Baldwin on 7/10/72. According to Baldwin he prepared hand written logs of pertinent information he obtained by monitoring and McCord subsequently typed his hand written information into memorandum form.

(3) One purpose of the 6/17/72, break-in was to adjust a faulty tap on O'Brien's phone and to install a room listening device or bug in or near his office

Re: JAMES WALTER McCORD, JR.; ET AL.

COMMENTS: This is in accordance with item 2 above and in addition, at the time of the subjects' arrest, they were in possession of devices which could be used as described by O'Brien above. Further, Baldwin has advised that on the night of the break-in, McCord purchased additional batteries, wiring and a bell chime box, as well as other component parts appearing to be from Lafayette radio.

(4) On 5/27/72, some of the same men later arrested at the Watergate set out to plant electronic eavesdropping equipment in Senator McGovern's headquarters on Capitol Hill. However, this mission was terminated by the presence of other persons in the area.

COMMENTS: Baldwin in his interview on 7/10/72, described such an apparent attempt in which he participated along with James Walter McCord, Everette Howard Hunt, George Gordon Liddy and other unidentified individuals. In addition, our investigation has established that the four individuals, other than McCord, arrested at the time of the 6/17/72, break-in were in Washington, D. C., during the period May 22 to 30, 1972, at which time they were apparently awaiting an assignment which never came off.

It is to be noted that during the interview with Baldwin on 7/10/72, at the U. S. Attorney's office, Washington, D. C., individuals present other than Bureau Agents included Assistant U. S. Attorneys Earl J. Silbert and Donald Edward Campbell, as well as Baldwin's attorney Robert Mirto. Baldwin was contacted on 9/7/72, and he advised he has not furnished information concerning the foregoing to any ^{one} other than the individuals who were present at the ^{been} interview on 7/10/72. Baldwin also advised that he has not been contacted by anyone concerning the foregoing information. It is to be noted that since Liddy, Hunt and McCord participated in the above events, of course, they are possible suspects as to the leak of this information.

ACTION: For information.

Watergate Called Part of Big GOP Plan

More Phone Taps Charged

By Carl Bernstein
and Bob Woodward

Washington Post Staff Writers

Former Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien said yesterday that the Watergate bugging incident was part of an elaborate, Republican-sponsored electronic surveillance effort that lasted for "several weeks" and included an abortive attempt to plant listening devices at Sen. George McGovern's former campaign headquarters.

At a press conference here, O'Brien also charged Attorney General Richard Kleindienst with "foot-dragging" in the investigation and prosecution of the incident.

Saying he had received information on "unimpeachable authority"—but refusing to name the source—O'Brien made these new assertions:

• His telephone and that of R. Spencer Oliver, executive director of the Association of State Democratic Chairmen, were "tapped" for "several weeks" and "monitored on a regular daily basis."

• "Logs of conversations were kept and transcribed into memorandum form" from a monitoring station on the seventh floor of the Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge across from the Democrats' Watergate headquarters on Virginia Avenue.

• One purpose of the June 17 break-in at the Watergate was to tap the phone of Sen. McGovern.

Phone Tapped for Weeks, Democrats' O'Brien Charges

as to adjust a "faulty tap" on O'Brien's phone and to install a room listening device, or "bug," in or near his office.

On May 27, some of the men later arrested in the Watergate incident "set out to plant electronic eavesdropping equipment in Sen. McGovern's former headquarters on Capitol Hill, at 410 1st St. SE, here in Washington. This mission was abruptly terminated outside the headquarters . . . by the presence of other persons in the area."

O'Brien, now national campaign director for Sen. McGovern, said that during the time his phone was tapped he had conversations with perhaps every prominent Democrat in America, including every candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

from the phone tap and information revealed last week to have been photocopied from his files. "People could get out of context—develop some ideas that might be useful or helpful in a campaign," O'Brien said.

O'Brien said his new information was developed from the Democrats' own investigation of the Watergate incident. Edward Bennett Williams, the Democrats' attorney, has assembled an investigative staff headed by Walter Sheridan, who was an assistant to Robert F. Kennedy when he was attorney general.

The White House, the Nixon campaign committee, and the Justice Department had no immediate comment on O'Brien's assertions.

In a related development, Williams yesterday filed notice that he will take sworn secret testimony from 15 additional persons in the Democrats' $1 million invasion of privacy suit against the five men arrested in the Watergate incident.

Included in the list are the Republican National chairman, Sen. Robert Dole (R-Kan.), and John Ehrlichman, the top domestic assistant to President Nixon.

In the notice to take depositions, Williams said the formal statements would be taken, one a day, from Sept. 12 to Oct. 2.

This virtually assures that the case will stay in the news for the rest of the month as well-known Republican officials appear at Williams' office. Every day until now, reporters have gathered to obtain comment from those questioned by Williams before and after making their secret testimony.

U.S. District Court Judge Charles R. Richey has ruled that all the sworn statements must be kept secret to protect the constitutional rights of the five men arrested in the Watergate incident.

Among the 16 asked to make sworn statements are White House aides William E. Timmons, head of congressional relations for the White House, and Egil Krogh, an assistant to Ehrlichman.

The following eight persons associated with the Committee for the Re-election of the President will also be summoned: Clark MacGregor, the head of the committee; Jeb Magruder, Fred LaRue, Robert C. Odle Jr., Robert Mardian, a former assistant attorney general in charge of internal security; J.

Glenn Sedam, John J. Coulter and Sally H. Harmon, the secretary to G. Gordon Liddy, the former finance counsel to the committee.

Liddy was fired June 28 for refusing to answer FBI questions about the Watergate incident.

In addition, depositions will be taken from Diane Konowal and Linda Jones, two secretaries at the Robert R. Mullen public relations firm. E. Howard Hunt, a former White House consultant who has been linked to the incident, worked as a writer at the Mullen firm.

Williams has also summoned a representative of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. and the wife of James W. McCord Jr., one of the five men arrested inside the Watergate on June 17.

Hugh W. Sloan Jr., the former Nixon committee treasurer, also is on the list. Sloan was scheduled at first to give his deposition earlier this month, but it was delayed.

Williams has already taken depositions from right people, including John N. Mitchell, the former attorney general and until July 1 head of President Nixon's campaign, and Maurice H. Stans, President Nixon's chief fund-raiser.

In another development yesterday, an argument broke out at the House Banking and Currency Committee meeting as Rep. Barry Brown (R-Mich.) said he was upset about leaks to the news media.

The Committee, headed by Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.), is conducting a preliminary investigation into financial transactions surrounding the Watergate incident — especially the $114,000 of Mr. Nixon's campaign funds linked to the case.

Brown demanded of Patman: "I want assurance from you that nothing will be released by this Committee until we have a chance to see it. Damn it, that is something we should have."

"If any information from this report is given to the public or the press before we meet on it, I'm going to raise all kinds of hell," Brown said.

Patman, reportedly irritated, told Brown to state his complaints in writing. "We don't accept blabbermouth complaints," Patman said.

He said the staff study on the Watergate finances would be ready Tuesday and the Committee could meet again Thursday to discuss the matter and decide if a "full-scale hearings" will be undertaken.

GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION
Summary

Attached is summary of current developments concerning burglary of Democratic National Headquarters.

(1) No grand jury took place 9/12/72. Efforts continuing to complete indictment papers.

(2) In civil suit hearing before Judge Richey of U.S. District Court, technicality arose over filing of amendment by plaintiff Lawrence O'Brien. It appears Harold Unger missed filing date by one day in filing response to motion by Henry Rothblatt, who is defending the five defendants, to dismiss suit. Judge Richey appointed Kenneth Parkington and William Bittman to act as officers of court to file response as to law on point as to whether or not court should dismiss suit. Judge Richey postponed all depositions until he makes ruling on matter and advised decision could be expected by 9/20/72.

(3) Efforts continuing to locate the State Street Bank of New York City account in name of E. Howard Hunt, Jr.

Investigation continuing.

Mr. Gray has instructed that a statistical type summary be prepared concerning the FBI investigation in this case. This statistical summary is separate and apart from the substantive summary which is under preparation.

The following information should be assembled and included:

- (1) Specifically what instructions have been given orally to the Washington Field Office and other offices to the effect that the SACs must take personal charge of this investigation; that the investigation must be given highest priority; that sufficient manpower be assigned and that if necessary manpower must be diverted from other areas.
- (2) Identify each teletype wherein the block of instructions described in point #1 has been specifically included in a teletype. If a teletype went out with only a portion of the language, specifically set out the language used.
- (3) Set forth the number of field offices and foreign offices which have been involved in investigating this case.
- (4) Set forth the total number of leads which have been covered.
- (5) Set out the total number of persons who have been interviewed.
- (6) Set out the total number of persons who have been reinterviewed.
- (7) Set forth the total number of agents assigned.
- (8) Set forth the total man hours utilized in this investigation to date.

The statistical summary which you prepare should include all of the above information up to the close of business Friday, 9-8-72.

If there is any other statistical data which could be compiled quickly to reflect the scope of the investigation, this should also be included.

I should be furnished by 1:00 p. m. today, 9-11-72, your estimate as to when this summary can be completed and made available to the Acting Director.

ReBucall this date.

There has not been any doubt on my part as to the scope of the investigation to be conducted in the captioned matter. Under the instructions of the Bureau, a continuing, vigorous, imaginative, absolutely thorough, immediate and comprehensive investigation by as many Special Agents as needed to develop the intercept of communications and conspiracy violations, the reasons for the activity, as well as all participants involved, has been conducted and directed field-wide by this office under my direction. All leads for other offices were handled by telephone or immediate teletype, and the Bureau was informed of them. This case has been the subject matter of numerous conferences by the SAC with the supervisor, case agents and agents performing some of the work. Periodically, all involved personnel are reminded of the necessity for absolute security of the information developed to preclude any unauthorized disclosure or access by individuals outside the Department of Justice and the Bureau.

Reference is made to Mr. Felt's memorandum of the same caption dated September 11, 1972.

This is to advise that I am not aware of any instructions being issued limiting the scope of the investigation in this case.

With regard to the allegation that we have not been allowed to investigate possible irregularities in the matter of campaign contributions, it is to be noted that in the memorandum from C. Bolz to you dated 8/2/72 a summary was set forth of the FBI investigation to trace funds used in financing the burglary of the Democratic Party National Headquarters. This included the investigation concerning the $25,000 cashier's check purchased by Kenneth Dahlberg which was given to Maurice Stans, Chairman of the Finance Committee to Reelect the President. Also included in this memorandum was our investigation to trace $89,000 of Banco Internacional checks drawn in Mexico City. These are the only political contributions pertinent to this investigation that we investigated that I am aware of.

This is for your information.

Watergate Case To Nearby Motel

By JACK NELSON

Newly discovered telephone records support allegations that suspects in the Democratic National Committee bugging case maintained a listening post across the street from the committee's Washington offices.

The records show that two collect calls were made May 26 and May 29 from a pay phone to the residence of Virgilio R. Gonzalez, a Miami locksmith.

He was one of five suspects arrested June 17 while allegedly trying to plant electronic eavesdropping equipment in the Democratic offices in the Watergate building.

TELEPHONE records show that the calls to Gonzalez's residence were made from phones in the lobby of a Howard Johnson motel across the street from the Democratic headquarters.

Lawrence F. O'Brien, national campaign manager for Sen. George S. McGovern, has accused the Committee for the Re-election of the President of bugging the Democratic offices and of maintaining a listening post at the Howard Johnson motel.

O'Brien said evidence would show that the suspects had broken into the offices on June 17 in order to plant a listening device and to repair a faulty tap that had been planted on his telephone earlier, when he was chairman of the Democratic Party.

OTHERS ARRESTED June 17 included James W. Moore, who at the time was security director for both the Republican Party and the Committee to Re-elect the President, and three Miami men, Bernard L. Barker, Frank Sturgis and Eugene Martinez.

Meanwhile, the FBI has shown renewed interest in another facet of the bizarre case.

Virgilio Gonzalez

... his home called

that the suspects had broken into the Democratic offices before June 17. Richardson first contacted the FBI and told about the film-processing incident after recognizing newspaper photos of Barker and Sturgis after their arrests.

FBI AGENTS visited the photo shop Friday to question Richardson further and to show him an artist's sketch of a third person he had described as having accompanied Barker and Sturgis to pick up the film and photographs he had processed. He said the film consisted of 38 close-up shots of documents held in hands covered by surgical gloves. All five of the bugging suspects wore surgical gloves when arrested.

Richardson, describing the agents' visit to his shop Friday, said the artist's sketch closely resembled the third man he had identified. He said the man was about five feet ten inches tall and lanky, with kinky strawberry-blond hair, and was about 20 to 35 years old.

Dardis, the state attorney's investigator, said Sunday he thought he knew the identity of the third man. He said he believed he was a Cuban who had past ties to the Central Intelligence Agency. All four of the Miami suspects have been described as Cubans with past CIA links.

SUBJECT: JAMES WALTER MC CORD, JR.; ET AL.
BURGLARY OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY
NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS, 6-17-72
INTERCEPTION OF COMMUNICATIONS

A story in the Washington Post for Saturday, 9-9-72, quoted Justice Department and other sources to the effect (1) that the investigation of this case is complete, and (2) that the FBI agents were not allowed to investigate any allegations of possible violations of the laws relating to political contributions.

Please prepare a memorandum for the Acting Director outlining the investigation still under way and your projection as to when it might be finished.

Also provide any observations or comments concerning the allegation that we have not been allowed to investigate possible irregularities in the matter of campaign contributions. Please include your own observations on this point as well as observations of your #1 Man, Section Chief and Supervisors handling this case at FBIHQ. Also obtain from SAC Kunkel a comment as to whether there is any doubt in his mind as to the scope of the investigation to be conducted.

It appears that much of the information which has been leaked to the press may have come from County Prosecutor Gerstein in Florida. Contact SAC Whittaker and obtain the dates of all contacts with Gerstein together with the names of the agents handling these contacts. Whittaker should interview these agents concerning whether or not they have furnished any information to Gerstein which has subsequently been leaked to the press. Whittaker should also alert all his agents to the need to be most circumspect in all future dealings with Gerstein.

The article which appeared in the Washington Post this morning appears to have been taken from the FD-302 of our interview with former SA Baldwin. You advise that you are making an analysis of this matter which analysis should be incorporated in your memorandum replying to this.

I personally contacted SAC Kunkel to point out that it appeared the Washington Post or at least a reporter had access to the Baldwin FD-302. I told him he should forcibly remind all agents of the need to be most circumspect in talking about this case with anyone outside the Bureau. Incorporate the results of your inquiries concerning the matter set out above in a separate memorandum for the information of the Acting Director.
